

WHOLESOME ADVICE

Portland Chamber of Commerce Makes Timely Suggestions

ADVERTISE OUR RESOURCES

Portland's Great Commercial Organization Willing to Co-operate With and Assist Clatsop County in Securing Immigration and Capital.

The following letter received at this office shows that the Portland chamber of commerce is anxious and willing to lend its efforts to build up every section of the state and is a complete refutation of published statements that Portland is only actuated by selfish motives.

Portland, April 10, 1905.
Editor Morning Astorian:

For the benefit of your section of the state we suggest that you discuss in your paper and set forth the resources and business opportunities of your section for the information of visitors to the exposition, who might be induced to visit your locality.

We would like to know what industries could be properly located there such as lumber mills, woolen mills, dairies, creameries, etc., in short, every advantage you can offer to an intending investor or settler. We want this information prior to the opening of the exposition, and if you will send us the copy of your paper containing the article we can undoubtedly do you a great deal of good. It is the intention of the Portland chamber of commerce to promote the developments of the entire state, without prejudice to any locality, and to make the most of the present opportunity to advertise our resources and to follow up this work actively after the fair. Yours very truly,

THE PORTLAND CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

By EDWARD C. GILLIM, Secretary.

It is a well known fact that the Astorian is the only newspaper published in Astoria that has given space in its columns to descriptive matter of Astoria and Clatsop county. While the Astorian desires to secure business in the way of advertisement and subscription, and has today the largest advertising patronage and more subscribers than all the other papers combined, it has made this business by not only working in the interests of its patrons, but by publishing statements of the grand possibilities for location and investment in Astoria and Clatsop county, for every dollar of capital invested and new family that comes to Astoria increases the business of the merchants. The home paper owes a duty to the people and a part of that duty is to furnish accurate information for those seeking new homes.

In order to accomplish this, the press needs the co-operation and support of every merchant and every property owner, employee and person and every commercial organization to show that its efforts are appreciated. A perusal of the columns of The Astorian this morning shows that the business community appreciates the efforts of the Astorian. It is not to be expected that everyone will endorse the position of The Astorian, but everyone has a right to his opinions. To build up Astoria, induce people to come here and locate and create a more healthful moral sentiment is the policy of The Astorian. Criticisms are based upon the policy of the greatest good for the greatest number. There must be a family newspaper in Astoria, as well as in every community and that is the position intended to be filled by The Astorian.

Eminent Violinist.

Probably the greatest violinist on the stage today is Senor Ricardo Oruliz. He is also one of the highest priced performers in vaudeville, but that didn't deter Manager Gervutz in securing him for one week commencing Monday at the Star. Lovers of music should not fail to hear him. Among the other attractions for next week is Rose and Ellis, the world's greatest comedy acrobats and barrel jumpers, performing some of the most wonderful feats ever witnessed. Herb Bell will appear as the eccentric German comedian and is both original and funny. Robinson and Jones will present their laughable farce sketch, "Maister Peter," said to be one of the funniest acts on the stage. The program next week is equal to all former ones and which has made the Star famous.

Fined Ten Dollars.

John Pissola, a worthless, drunken brute who was creating a disturbance in the red light district, was arrested early yesterday morning by Officer Wilson. After being arrested Pissola broke away from the officer and started on a run. Wilson did not intend to let his man escape and fired his gun in the air, which brought the man to a halt and he was landed in jail. Judge Anderson imposed a fine of $10 on the man, which sobered him up.

Derby hats are now selling for $35 a ton in London where they are burned for the shellac which is in them. What a haul you could make with a drag-net one of these windy days?
